

HAYET EKELEME

PRESENTER | TV PERSONALITY | PUBLIC SPEAKER

About Hayet

Hayet's career path has taken a remarkable turn, from navigating the world of finance to captivating audiences on screen. Leveraging her diverse skillset, Hayet transitioned from a successful banker to a sought-after presenter, media personality, and public speaker. Her adaptability has opened doors to prestigious channels including BBC, BAFTA's, ITV, Channel 4, SKY and more.

Hayet has honed her craft as an interviewer by engaging with a captivating array of personalities. From renowned actresses like Viola Davis and Michelle Yeoh to national treasures like Dame Emma Thompson and Dame Mary Berry, her conversations have traversed the entertainment and music landscapes, and beyond.

FEATURED IN

PRESENTER

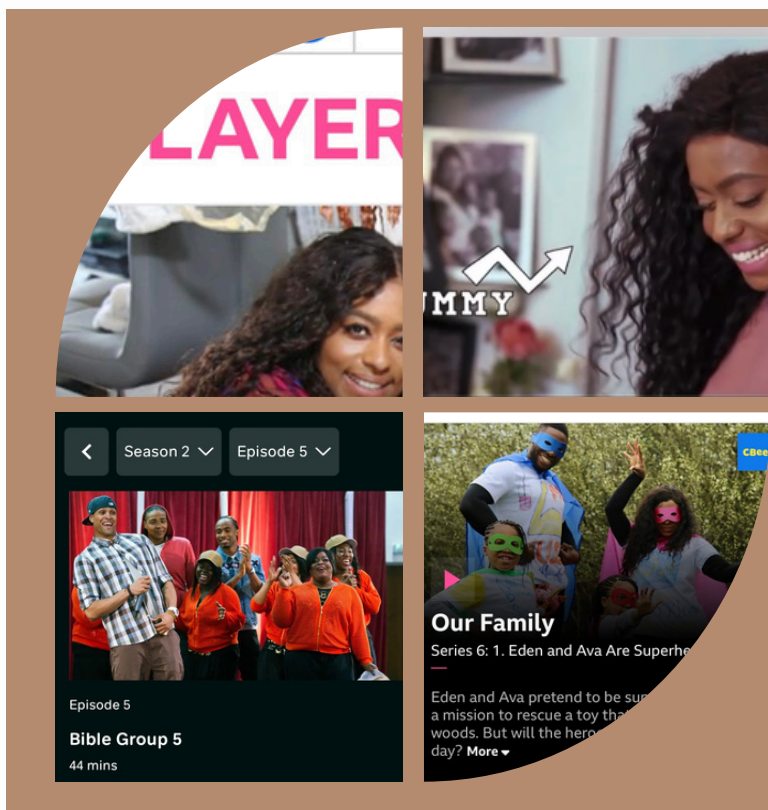

Hayet has brought her talents to a wide range of events, hosting award ceremonies like the Women’s Inspirational Awards and Global African Awards, film premieres, and conferences like the Global Women Summit.

Throughout her career, she’s had the privilege of interviewing esteemed personalities such as Viola Davis, Michelle Yeoh, Dame Emma Thompson, and many more stars from entertainment, sports, and music. These enriching interactions have broadened Hayet’s understanding of diverse perspectives.

TV PERSONALITY

Hayet’s television career began on Sky TV’s “Ashley Banjo’s Secret Street Crew,” where her natural charisma was immediately recognized by the camera crew. This experience ignited a passion within her for performing on screen.

Hayet has since built a diverse filmography, including a recurring role as the mother in CBBC’s “Our Family” (originally planned for a single episode but extended to six due to her well-received performance). She has also appeared in documentary segments on Channel 4’s “Food Unwrapped” and even graced the red carpet in 2021, presenting while ITV news segment.

PUBLIC SPEAKER

Hayet, a motivational speaker who ignites audiences with her powerful presentations, has transcended platforms. From captivating listeners on podcasts and social media (where her combined following is over a mighty 94,000!), she’s taken her message all the way to the prestigious Global Women’s World Summit.

But Hayet’s journey is what truly sets her apart. Her story of transformation: from navigating a difficult past to a successful career in banking, and ultimately, to the world of presenting, tv and public speaking. Hayet’s story is living proof that anything is achievable.
